The Deans of the Schools at Downstate would like to invite you to

DOWNSTATE’S 3rd ANNUAL CENTER-WIDE FACULTY DEVELOPMENT SYMPOSIUM

Tuesday, May 3, 2011

Program

8:45am
 Welcoming Remarks
 Ian Taylor, MD, PhD
 Senior Vice President for Biomedical Education and Research
 Dean, College of Medicine
 Alumni Auditorium

9:00am-9:45am
 Effective Classroom Assessment Techniques
 Sean McKitrick, PhD
 Assistant Provost and Director of the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment
 SUNY Binghamton
 Alumni Auditorium

Breakout Sessions

10:00am-11:00am
 Critical Reflection and Scholarly Teaching
 Christopher Price, PhD
 Director, The Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT)
 SUNY, College at Brockport
 Classroom 1A

Introduction to Team Based Learning
 Fredric Volkert, PhD
 Assistant Dean for Program and Faculty Development
 SUNY Downstate, College of Medicine
 Lecture Hall 1B

11:00am-11:15am
 Coffee Break
 Atrium
11:15am-noon
Blended Learning – Juggling Methods and Mediums
Pam Youngs-Maher, M.Ed
Coordinator of Online Learning
SUNY Upstate Medical University
Alumni Auditorium

Noon-1pm
Teaching Clinical Skills: Creating an Active Learning Environment
Andrea Manyon MD, FAAFP
Professor and Chair
Department of Family Medicine
Director, Practice of Medicine Program
SUNY Upstate Medical University
Alumni Auditorium

Registration is free—but please RSVP to facultydevelopment@downstate.edu or Angela Melton at (718) 270-7420.

For more information, please email: facultydevelopment@downstate.edu
The Conference Faculty

Sean McKitrick, PhD
Assistant Provost and Director of the Office of Institutional Research and Assessment, SUNY Binghamton

Sean McKitrick was appointed assistant provost for curriculum, instruction and assessment in June 2006. He has BA and MA degrees in international relations from Brigham Young University, and a PhD in political science from Claremont Graduate University. He has served as academic dean at Parks College in Thornton, Colorado, dean of instruction at Bryant & Stratton College in Lackawanna, N.Y., and director of assessment and accreditation at Indiana State University in Terre Haute, Ind. In instructional and administrative roles, he has formulated and implemented teaching, assessment and accreditation initiatives, focusing on the inclusion of faculty in assessment processes.

His primary responsibilities involve overseeing the University's efforts to assess the various components of general education and each undergraduate and graduate major and professional program, integrating yearly activities into the broader six-year cyclic review of respective academic units and collaborating with the Center for Learning and Teaching to effect continuous University-wide improvement in curriculum and instruction.

Christopher Price, PhD
Director
Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching (CELT)
SUNY, College at Brockport

Dr. Christopher Price is the Director of the Center for Excellence in Learning and Teaching and Instructor for the Department of Political Science and International Studies at The College at Brockport, State University of New York. He received his PhD in political science from the University at Albany. Dr. Price’s current research looks at how the power-balanced classroom can serve as a means of citizen education. The faculty development workshops he conducts include discussion-based teaching and learning, communicating and relating effectively with students, and using faculty critical reflection to improve teaching and learning.

Fredric Volkert, PhD
Assistant Dean for Program and Faculty Development, SUNY Downstate, College of Medicine

Dr. Volkert obtained a B.S. Degree in Zoology from Michigan State University and a Ph.D. in Microbiology from Columbia University, and did postdoctoral research in microbial genetics under James Broach at Princeton University. He has been on the Downstate faculty since then, in the Department of Microbiology and Immunology, and then in the Department of Cell Biology, while also serving as the Assistant Dean for Program and Faculty Development in the College of Medicine since 2001, with primary responsibilities for developing small-group and technology-enhanced learning. Dr. Volkert has served as a course or block director in the College of Medicine since 1992, for Human Genetics, Microbiology and Immunology, Infection and Host Defense, and Immunity, Inflammation, and Infection, and has received awards as MS2 Teacher of the Year (4 times) and Preclinical Educator.
of the Year, as well as the Chancellor's Award for Excellence in Education. He is a member of the International Association for Medical Science Educators and the Team-Based Learning Collaborative, and was a Scholar-in-Residence of the American Society for Microbiology in 2006-07.

Pam Youngs-Maher, M.Ed
Coordinator of Online Learning
Upstate Medical University

Pam Youngs-Maher is Coordinator of Online Learning at Upstate Medical University in Syracuse, N.Y. She has 30 years of experience in adult education, eleven of which have been in online learning. She holds a B.S. in Adult Education from Cornell University, and a M.Ed. in Adult Education and Staff Development from N.C. State University.

Andrea Manyon MD, FAAFP
Professor and Chair
Department of Family Medicine
Director, Practice of Medicine Program
SUNY Upstate Medical University

Andrea Manyon, MD, Clinical Professor of the Department of Family Medicine and the first female Chair at SUNY Upstate Medical University joined us in January, 2006. Prior to her arrival, Dr. Manyon was Residency Program Director at SUNY Buffalo. She also served as the Director of Pre-Doctoral Education/Vice Chair for Medical Student Education at SUNY Buffalo. Dr. Manyon received her MD degree at SUNY Buffalo School of Medicine and Biomedical Sciences in 1983 and completed her residency at the Family Medicine Residency Buffalo General Hospital in 1986, also completing a Faculty Development Fellowship in Curriculum Development. Dr. Manyon was an attending at Kaleida Health System, UB Family medicine and DeGraff Family Medicine. Board Certified in 1987, Dr. Manyon has received honors and awards for Excellence in Medical Education and been nominated for "Family Physician of the Year Award" in New York State.
Objective:
To develop an understanding of the concept of faculty development and incorporating new teaching technologies into day to day teaching activities.

Target Audience
Faculty, residents, students and staff are invited.

Educational Objectives
As a result of attending this activity, attendees will:
- develop an understanding of the concept of faculty development;
- be introduced to new technologies in medical and adult education;
- become cognizant of the pitfalls in adult education;
- be able to incorporate new teaching techniques and technologies in the classroom and at the patient bedside.

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT
The State University of New York (SUNY) Downstate Medical Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

SUNY Downstate Medical Center designates this educational activity for a maximum of 3.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

DISCLOSURE STATEMENT
SUNY Downstate Medical Center Office of CME (OCME) and its affiliates are committed to providing educational activities that are objective, balanced and as free of bias as possible. The OCME has established policies that will identify and resolve all conflicts of interest prior to this educational activity. All participating faculty are expected to disclose to the audience, verbally or in writing, any commercial relationships that might be perceived as a real or apparent conflict of interest related to the content of their presentations, and unlabeled/unapproved uses of drugs and devices. Detailed disclosures will be made verbally and/or in writing during the program.

ADA STATEMENT
Special Needs: In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, SUNY Downstate Medical Center seeks to make this conference accessible to all. If you have a disability which might require special accommodations, please contact Angela Melton at 718-270 7420 or at angela.melton@downstate.edu