The Faculty of all Colleges at Downstate is cordially invited to the Downstate Centerwide Faculty Development Initiative's:

Grand Rounds
Learning to Use Learning Styles!
Work Smarter, Not Harder

Research shows that the most effective teaching responds to a range of learning styles. We invite you to participate in an online mini-course.

By participating you will:

Assess your own learning style
Practice designing brief learning experiences that respond to diverse learning styles
Increase your comfort level with using online discussion forums

The mini-course will require less than 30 minutes of your time online as follows:

- 2 minutes by Tuesday, January 19
- 10 minutes by Thursday, Jan 21
- 15 minutes by Tuesday morning, Jan. 26.

You may participate at any time of the day or night.

A live follow-up session will be held on Tuesday, January 26, 2010 in Classroom 1A from noon-12:45pm

To register for the mini-course or for more information, please email: facultydevelopment@downstate.edu

For the live follow-up session, please RSVP by January 22th via email to guarantee a seat.

- Limited seating is 60.
- Lunch will be served

Please specify standard, vegetarian or kosher

Sponsored by:

The School of Public Health,

Empire State College and

the Centerwide Faculty Development Initiative at Downstate