Instructions for Non-Matriculated Applicants

Individuals who wish to be considered as non-matriculated students must meet the following criteria:

2. Completion of the non-matriculated form.
3. Submission of an official transcript of all degrees completed.
4. A personal interview with a designated member of the faculty.

Individuals accepted as non-matriculated students are limited to specific courses in each department (see list below). Students must achieve a GPA of 3.0 or higher to be considered for subsequent admission as a matriculated student.

Courses Available for Non-matriculated Students:
Approved non-matriculated students may take any four (4) of the five (5) core MPH courses (listed below). No more than twelve (12) credits in a non-matriculated status are allowed.

MPH Core Courses:
- Principles of Biostatistics
- Principles of Epidemiology
- Health Behavior and Risk Reduction
- Principles of Environmental Health
- Introduction to Health Policy and Management

* Non-matriculated students wishing to take other courses must secure the permission of the chair of that particular department.

Non-matriculate Application Process:
If the non-matriculated student subsequently wishes to apply to the program as a matriculated student, then s/he must complete the formal application process, and be accepted based on the criteria. Credits from the courses taken as a non-matriculated student will apply to the student's MPH course credits.

Note that an application to become a matriculated student does not guarantee admission.

The School determines which courses are open to non-matriculated students as well the number of students allowed in each course.
