Program Description

CONFERENCE DESCRIPTION

A vital part of the Office of GME and the ACGME mission is recognizing how increasing diversity in the physician workforce positively impacts healthcare access and patient outcomes. Additionally, the importance of physician well-being and professionalism reflects a culture of accountability with a culture of respect. This meeting aims to build awareness, influence change, and collaborate throughout the continuum in the clinical environment.

TARGET AUDIENCE

This course is designed for attending physicians, residents, fellows, physicians, physician assistants, nurses, medical students, and social workers.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

At the conclusions of this activity, participants should be able to:

1. Examine the overall development as a physician in the continuum
2. Develop relationships with other faculty/personnel to form cross-linkage across educational silos
3. Assess new strategies for the overall development of physician professionalism

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

The State University of New York (SUNY) Downstate Health Sciences University is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

SUNY Downstate Health Sciences University designates this learning format for a maximum of 6.00 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.
