New York State prides itself in the high quality of its licensed and certified professionals. For the protection of its citizens, each license and certificate has requirements that individuals must meet in order to be licensed or certified in New York State. State of University of New York's ("SUNY") academic programs leading to licensure and/or certification are carefully designed to meet and exceed the State requirements. This is a role that SUNY plays in protecting the public. Other states frequently have their own requirements, so if your goal is to practice in another state, this disclosure will help you check to see what those state requires.

In compliance with Federal Regulations, 34 CFR §668.43 (2019 Rule), and State Authorization Reciprocity Agreements (SARA) Manual version 19.2, the SUNY Downstate Health Sciences University ("SUNY Downstate") provides the following disclosure related to the educational requirements for professional licensure in Health Related Professions.

This Disclosure is strictly limited to the SUNY Downstate's determination of whether its educational programs, specifically the following programs: Bachelor of Sciences in Diagnostic Medical Imaging-Sonography; Masters of Sciences, Medical Informatics; Master of Science and Advanced Certificate in Midwifery; Masters of Science in Occupational Therapy; Bachelor of Science/Doctor of Physical Therapy in Physical Therapy and Master of Science in Physician Assistant - that if successfully completed, would be sufficient to meet the educational licensure and/or certification requirements in a State for the practice of Health Care Professions.¹ SUNY Downstate cannot provide verification of an individual's ability to meet licensure and/or certification requirements unrelated to its educational programming. Such individual determinations are made by state licensing boards and are fact-specific determinations.

This disclosure does not provide any guarantee that any particular state licensure and/or certification entity will approve or deny your application. Furthermore, this disclosure does not account for changes in any state law or regulation that may affect your application for licensure and/or certification and occur after this disclosure has been made. Enrolled students and

¹ This determination is based on the educational and curricular requirements of each state for licensure (i.e., excluding any special, temporary licensure that may be granted) and does not imply that other requirements for certification and/or licensure do not exist or have been determined to have been met by this program or that any necessary approvals for clinical placements have been secured at the time of enrollment. Each student should verify their particular situation with their intended state's licensing entity.
