

Residency and Relocation Loan

Frequently asked questions for schools

General

What's covered by a Residency and Relocation Loan?

- Travel to interviews
- Relocation costs
- Board examination costs
- Other expenses that are not included in the school's cost of attendance

Who is eligible for the Residency and Relocation Loan?

- Students are eligible if they're enrolled at least half-time in their final year of study at a participating medical, dental, podiatry, or veterinary school, or if they've graduated from one within the last 12 months. Students must have been awarded, or expect to be awarded, their degree during the same academic year they apply.
- Students who are not U.S. citizens or U.S. permanent residents must reside in the U.S., attend or graduate from a participating school in the U.S., apply with a creditworthy cosigner (who must be a U.S. citizen or U.S. permanent resident), and provide an unexpired government-issued photo ID to verify identity.
- Applications are subject to a requested minimum loan amount of $1,000. Current credit and other eligibility criteria apply.

Are there any loan limits?

- Students can borrow from $1,000 up to $30,000.
- The maximum loan amount can be taken out in one or more loans.

Is applying with a cosigner recommended?

- While a cosigner is not required for borrowers who qualify on their own, students can choose to apply with a creditworthy cosigner. Cosigners must be U.S. citizens or U.S. permanent residents. While it may be beneficial to apply with a cosigner, 70% of Residency and Relocation Loan applicants who apply without one are approved.¹

Can applicants change the loan amount?

- An increase to the loan amount up to the maximum can be requested. If approved, the student and cosigner, if applicable, must re-sign the loan package that includes the application, promissory note, Truth in Lending Disclosure Statement, and any applicable state notices.
- Loan amounts can be decreased as long as funds haven't been fully disbursed to the borrower. If the funds have been disbursed, the borrower should return the excess amount to us.

What is the student death and disability feature?

- Upon verification that the student is deceased or permanently and totally disabled, we will waive the current balance and all remaining payments on the loan, and any future disbursements will be canceled.

Process

How do students apply?

- Students can apply online at salliemae.com/medical or salliemae.com/dental.
- Students attending a participating international school can apply online at salliemae.com/globalhealthloan.

What must applicants do to obtain the loan?

- Satisfy credit requirements
- Complete an application, promissory note, and any other documents without alteration
- Meet other identification requirements
- Meet the age of majority

What is your disbursement policy?

- First disbursement of loan proceeds may not occur earlier than the final year of study, and no later than 12 months following graduation. Funds will be disbursed directly to the student.

How does a student apply for cosigner release?

- Students may apply to release their cosigner from the loan after they graduate, make 12 on-time principal and interest payments, and meet certain credit requirements.²
- Students should download the application from salliemae.com/cosignerrelease or call us at 800-4-SALLIE (800-472-5543) to initiate the request.
- Releasing the cosigner will not adversely impact the interest rate on the loan.

What if loan funds are returned?

- Full return: If loan funds are returned within 60 days of the first disbursement date, no interest or fees will accrue and the loan will be canceled. Funds can be returned more than 60 days after the first disbursement date, but the borrower and cosigner, if applicable, are responsible for paying all accrued interest and fees. If the borrower hasn't endorsed the disbursement paper check, however, the borrower and cosigner, if applicable, are not responsible for any accrued interest or fees.
- Partial return: A partial return of loan funds will be treated as a payment and can be made regardless of the number of days that have passed since disbursement. We will credit the return to the loan as a payment.

Repayment

What are the repayment options?

- Repayment begins 36 months after the student's graduation, or nine months following their withdrawal from school or falling below half-time status.
- Students can request to make interest-only payments for the first two or four years, followed by payments of principal and interest for the remainder of the term.

How does interest accrue during school?

- Interest is charged starting at disbursement, while the student is in school, during the applicable separation period of either 36 months after graduation, or nine months after withdrawal from school, or attendance that falls below half-time status, and until the loan is paid in full. Any interest that remains unpaid when the student enters repayment will be added to the loan's Current Principal at the end of their separation period. Variable rates may increase over the life of the loan.

What ways are there to reduce or postpone payments?

- Return to school: Students who return to school at least half-time after the expiration of the separation period may postpone payments. In-school deferment is limited to a total of 48 months and is granted in 12-month increments. Any interest that remains unpaid at the end of each deferment period will be added to the loan's Current Principal. Please note: Students who return to school at least half-time before completely using their separation period are considered to be continuously enrolled and there is no time limit.
- Residency/fellowship participation: To apply for this deferment, students and an official from the internship, clerkship, fellowship, or residency program must complete and submit a deferment form to us for consideration. If approved, deferment periods are issued in up to 12-month increments. Students can apply for and receive a maximum of four 12-month deferment periods. Interest is charged during the deferment period and Unpaid Interest may be added to the Current Principal at the end of each deferment period, which will increase the Total Loan Cost.
- Hardship forbearance: Students and/or cosigners who are experiencing temporary financial hardship may ask to temporarily postpone payments through a hardship forbearance request, but may be required to make a good-faith payment for doing so. Any interest that remains unpaid at the end of the forbearance period will be added to the loan's Current Principal.
