

DOWNSTATE
HEALTH SCIENCES UNIVERSITY

TRANSPORT

Translational Program of Health Disparities Research Training

JUNIOR FACULTY TRAINING PROGRAM

An enriching summer program that provides junior faculty with didactic courses in health disparities, diversity, community-based participatory research, study design, working with and presenting data, research ethics, grantsmanship skills, and academic career development.

PROGRAM DETAILS

- One-year training program, 2025-2026
- Summer 1: Two weeks
 - June 16th to June 27th, 2025
- Summer 2: NIH Mock Study Section, Summer 2026
- Research support up to $15,000

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

- Program is open to all Junior faculty at the Assistant Professor level.
- Applicants from underrepresented backgrounds are encouraged to apply.
- Underrepresented individuals in biomedical, clinical, behavioral, and social sciences include: Blacks or African Americans, Hispanics or Latinos, American Indians or Alaska Natives, Native Hawaiians and other Pacific Islanders, Individuals with disabilities, Individuals from disadvantaged backgrounds, and Women.

PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

- Trainees will work with mentors throughout the year
- Development of NIH-style proposal and preliminary work

QUESTIONS?

lakia.maxwell@downstate.edu

Mention 2025 TRANSPORT
JUNIOR FACULTY in the subject line

CLICK HERE TO APPLY

Deadline:

Applications accepted on a rolling basis

No later than March 1st, 2025